

PUTTING YOU IN THE PICTURE

PARTY: At the new Smirnoff Mule launch party at 6 Ely Place were (from far left): Dearbhla Doyle and Catherine O'Donnell; Caroline Scott and Seanna McGrann; Sarah Nisenbaum and Nicola O'Reilly

Pics: Kieran Harnett

HAVING FUN: From left - Aoife Collins and Sarah Ricard; Nadine Wai O'Flynn; and Emily O'Donnell and Jenny O'Duffy at the Smirnoff Mule launch party at 6 Ely Place

►► HAT designer Veronica Ryan celebrated her 25th birthday in style this weekend when she stepped out to Grafton Street's Lillie's Bordello on Saturday night.

Well-known beauties including The Clinic's Leigh Arnold and Fair City's Jenny Byrne joined her.

Meanwhile, Skins' star Nick Holt, George Hamilton, Baz Ashmawy, Laura Toogood and her beau Nicky Arnold, Sarah McGovern and Kelly O'Byrne were spotted partying over in Krystle nightclub.

►► A HOST of big names turned out for a special fundraiser at D2 club on Harcourt Street in aid of the Marie Keating Foundation.

Guests including Michelle Heaton, Paul Byrne, Keith Duffy, Gary Keating, Linda Keating, Brian Ormond and Pippa O'Connor enjoyed a special Pink Ribbon cocktail reception.

Celebrities auctioned themselves off for a lunch date at The Unicorn Restaurant, Peploes, and other well-known restaurants.

Earlier that day, Dundrum Town Centre director Don Nugent presented a cheque to the Foundation for €15,011.43, after the recent Dundrum Town Centre goes Pink May Bank Holiday Weekend Campaign.

►► EYE-LASH extensions have become the latest celebrity must-have - and the good news, ladies, is that we'll soon have the chance to pick from a range of lashes with Ireland's first The Lash Boutique, in Dalkey, Co Dublin.

The brains behind the business is Thereasa Arcari, who has just been commissioned by footwear designer Eileen Shields to do the lashes of clients at Shields' footwear party events.

►► THE celebrity judging panel for the final of Simply Be Curvy 2010 have just been announced, with Ireland AM presenter Alan Hughes and Dublin's 98 Morning Crew presenter Siobhan O'Connor set to join forces with Channel 4's Gok Wan to pick Ireland's curviest lady.

The competition is open to entries until the end of July and will choose one lucky woman, who - along with becoming the 'cover girl' for Simply Be Ireland's Spring/Summer catalogue in 2010 - will also bag a host of fantastic prizes.

►► EXCITEMENT is mounting in advance of the announcement of the Jameson Dubliner of the year this week.

A host of big names and influential characters throughout Dublin have been invited to attend a glitzy bash at the Merrion Hotel on Wednesday.

Enjoy BULMERS Sensibly
Visit drinkaware.ie

RACING ROCKS! at leopardstown

july 23 the stunning aug 6 the coronas
aug 13 the saw doctors

tickets from €15*

call 01 2890500

leopardstown.com

ticketmaster.ie

*booking fee applies

Evening Herald